TIME EXTENDED.

PRISONER JOHN L. DASSETT GRANTED A STAY OF EXECUTION.

EXECUTION IS POSTPONED SIXTY DAYS.

Judge Dale Grants an Extension of Time to the Condemned in Order to Give His Attorneys an Opportunity to Make a Transcript for the Supreme Court.

John Dasset, the condemned United States prisoner, who was sentenced to suffer the death penalty on January 8, was yesterday granted 60 days' extension of time by Judge Dale. This was done to give Messrs. Gardner, Huston and Heekman, an opportunity to prepare a case for presentation to the supreme court. The attorneys are being ably assisted by charitable ladies of this city, and it is thought that Dasset will come clear. The grounds for asking a stay were as follows:

That the plaintiff was convicted in the Logan county district court of the crime of murder; that the defendant is a poor man and is entirely dependent on charity of friends to prosecute an appeal; that the attorneys representing him do so without remuneration; that the stenographer, Miss Watt, will be unable to prepare a transcript at the time fixed by the court for the serving of said case; that defendant is in good faith in the presentation of a writ of habeas corpus; that the defendant has reason to believe that his friends will succeed in procuring sufficient means for which to pay for the transcript of said record and printing brief. The court granted the stay in the following language:

And now, to-wit: On this 18th day of December, 1903, was presented to me at my chambers in the City of Perry, in the Territory of Oklahoma, an application in the above entitled cause praying that the time for making and serving a case made herein and for the taking of an appeal herein, as provided by the order of the court in this case made on the 9th day of November, 1903, may be extended for the period of sixty days from the 8th day of January, 1904, and also praying that the time for the execution of the sentence herein imposed may be extended for the period of sixty days from the 8th day of January, 1904; and, it appearing to me that said application is made in good faith, and that substantial justice requires that such time shall be so extended, it is by me considered, ordered and adjudged that the time for making and serving a case made, and the perfecting of an appeal herein shall be made herein by the above named court or by the supreme court of the Territory of Oklahoma.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand this 18th day of December, 1903.

Judge Dist. Court Logan Co.

When informed of the action of the court, Dasset beamed, but was not enthusiastic. He said he was very grateful to his attorneys and friends for their work in his behalf, and added that a new trial would bring to light the fact that he was not guilty of the crime that was charged against him.
